The news show of science and reason!

What we have here is this week's Weekly News in Review from harpers.org (and the killradio news team).

This week in twelve and a half minutes you will learn about recent history and science, you will be amazed along with me that the rightwingers have finally admitted the truth about their empty minds (they don't make "factual statements"), you will get the latest details about Hosni Mubarek and his kids, you will learn of the hundreds of millions of gallons of hazardous chemicals dumped into wells in 13 states between 2005 and 2009, and you too can be insulted by the pretend presidential candidacy of pretend billionaire Donald Trump.

If you listen to this news, consider sending me a comment by writing to chillroom@gmail.com.

The entire Bush Administration belongs in prison for their traitorous anti-Constitutional behavior.

is it time for a commercial yet?
